Winter, Car Layoffs Hit Labor Pool February Figure Slips by 314,000

Washington, March 9 (AP)—Employment slipped by 314,000 in February to a total of 62,577,000 because of wintry weather and "sizable layoffs" in the auto industry, the Commerce and Labor Departments reported today.

Automotive employment dropped 85,000 from January, the monthly report showed, and the resulting production cut was reflected in layoffs in industries supplying the motor companies, including metals and rubber.

HOWEVER, unemployment across the nation remained virtually unchanged at 2,914,000. Joblessness was up only 29,000 for the month, a barely perceptible change statistically speaking.

The joint statement said most of the persons who left seasonal jobs withdrew from the labor market instead of seeking other work. They were not counted as unemployed.

Despite the employment dip, the number of jobholders remained about 2½ million above the level of February, 1955. Unemployment was 469,000 below a year ago.

NON-FARM employment still stood in February at a record for the month, roughly 4 per cent above February, 1955.

Factory jobs, numbering 16,800,000 in February, were down 60,000 instead of showing the usual small seasonal upturn. A larger-than-seasonal increase in the machinery industry, however, offset part of the decline in autos. Over the year, factory employment was up more than 700,000 and the chemicals, printing and primary metals industries were at all-time peaks for the month.

The factory work week averaged 40.6 hours as in January.

THE LABOR Department's Bureau of Employment Security reported that scattered layoffs in the auto industry in the week ended March 3 raised to more than 100,000 the number of workers in auto assembly and supplies plants who have been laid off since Jan. 1 in seven key states.

The largest new layoff was in Indiana, where 8,000 auto assembly workers were released for a week, and the second largest involved 1,600 workers in Michigan.

The bureau's tabulations showed that more than two-thirds of the auto workers currently laid off are in Michigan, 83 per cent of these being in the Detroit area. "Significant" auto unemployment exists in Indiana, Ohio and New York, the report stated, but some are unemployed also in Illinois, California and Wisconsin.

The local officers were assisted in the arrest by Newburgh police. Defendant was remanded to jail.

Disarmament Policy Drastically Revised

Washington, March 9 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has drastically revised U. S. disarmament policy to meet what officials conceive to be the needs of the hydrogen bomb age.

Presidential Assistant Harold Stassen told a news conference yesterday he believes the new program will be more acceptable to Russia than was President Eisenhower's "open skies" plan for mutual aerial inspection of the two big powers when it stood alone.

In this respect, Stassen made clear, the United States has modified its position from that which drew Soviet criticism after it was presented by Eisenhower at the Summit Conference last July.

Stassen will fly to London tomorrow to coordinate new U. S. disarmament proposals with representatives of Britain, France and Canada in advance of a new round of negotiations with the Soviet Union there March 19.

The new policy, elements of which have been disclosed at various times, abandons the idea that substantial cuts in military manpower must be a primary aim of any effective disarmament agreement.

It concentrates instead on bringing under control nuclear weapons—A-bombs and H-bombs—and on cutting back such things as bombers and missiles.

Stassen said it also offers a method for reducing existing stockpiles of atomic explosives

Red Leaders Will Travel To Britain

London, March 9 (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev will arrive April 18 for their much discussed trip to Britain. And they will stay 10 days, two days longer than was originally planned.

The British Foreign Office and the Moscow radio disclosed the arrangements in identical announcements today.

Even as the foreign office announcement was issued, loudspeaker vans toured London blaring "keep the Red beasts out." The protest was organized by the non-party league of Empire Loyalists, which said it also plans a march on the House of Commons.

DURING THEIR visit Bulganin and Khrushchev will hold political talks with Prime Minister Eden, be received by Queen Elizabeth II and tour farms and industrial plants.

Neither the foreign office nor the Soviet embassy would say how "B and K"—as the British call them—would travel.

But there has been speculation they will sail up the Thames river in a Russian cruiser to be

State Report on TB Hospital Received

The State Department of Health, which was requested to make a survey of facilities at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, at a recent meeting of the Board of Supervisors, has completed that survey.

The survey was requested to determine the advisability of closing the hospital and transferring patients to the state tuberculosis hospital at Oneonta.

It is expected the report will be studied by the health committee of the Board of Supervisors and that a meeting of the board will be called shortly to receive the report and take further action in the matter.

even though the administration holds that it is impossible to police adequately agreements to reduce them.

The formula provides for contributing atomic materials to an international atomic pool for peaceful purposes.

Thus, even though the United States and Russia did not know the exact size of each other's nuclear stocks, each would know how much was withdrawn and therefore the amount by which stockpiles were being cut back.

State University Plans Asking More Latitude in Fiscal Ways

Albany, N. Y., March 9 (AP)—The State University of New York plans to ask the Board of Regents for increased latitude in fiscal matters, and the power to choose its own president.

The proposals were disclosed at a news conference by Frank C. Moore, former lieutenant governor who is chairman of the university board of trustees, and Dr. William S. Carlson, university president.

Under "working rules" governing relations between the two groups, the university is required to report all appointments to the Regents, and to submit its budget requests to the education commissioner for review before they are included with the Regents' budget requests. The Regents govern all public education in the state.

Moore and Carlson said that, although the Regents have full jurisdiction over budget matters, the university's requests should be forwarded, unchanged, to the state budget director and the Legislature.

Moore said the changes requested were not "significant." He added that the Regents had been "very fair" in their relationship with the university.

Carlson said the University's budget items never had been cut. "I don't think they (the Regents) have any intention of doing so," he said, but he asserted that he felt a new budget policy should be established.

Storms Hit Upstate Area After Flood

Albany, N. Y., March 9 (AP)—Blizzards battered waterlogged New Yorkers today, even before the flood waters of the last three days had subsided. Wind and hail added to the grief.

While the rampaging Allegheny river floodwaters swirled southward from western New York to Pennsylvania, snow spread a soggy blanket over the northern, central and eastern parts of the state.

Plumetting temperatures increased the misery of families forced from flooded homes.

THE FORECAST was for snow flurries and scattered squalls today with high temperatures from 20 to 30.

The Chenango river spilled its banks at Chenango Bridge, near Binghamton, last night and closed Route 12A to traffic there. Main highways remained closed by flood waters at four other points.

At Salamanca, a city of 9,000 south of Buffalo near the Pennsylvania line, damage estimates soared over a million dollars. Mayor James J. Crowley declared a state of emergency and said it was the worst flood in the city's history.

The river crested at 14 feet 1 inch above normal, compared with 14 feet 2 inches in the disastrous Salamanca flood of 1942.

A bridge connecting the north and south sections of the city was closed late in the afternoon but the river never did cover it. Officials feared the supports might have been weakened.

State police reported blizzard conditions and treacherous highways throughout northern New York, the area southeast of Lake Ontario and in western Schenectady.

SOME NORTHERN areas were under 10 to 15 inches of snow with freezing rain falling. The storm curtailed work on construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Light snow fell atop flooded areas in south-central New York. Troopers said driving was very hazardous.

Other streams flooded yesterday were Onondaga Creek at Nedrow, the Seneca River at Baldwinsville in the Syracuse area, and the Genesee River near Wellsville.

The Buffalo suburban of Lackawanna began cleaning up after floods struck 500 homes. Mayor Walter J. Paryz, Jr., ended a

Kiwanians Ask Mental Board Here Desire Action By Supervisors

Need for a county mental health board was stressed in a resolution recently adopted by the board of directors of the Kingston Kiwanis Club, and it asked for official action in creating such a board, it was announced today.

The resolution, forwarded to the board of supervisors, stressed that the club was interested in the problem of the juvenile and senior citizens, as well as the health and welfare of all residents of the community.

IT NOTED that "a pressing need" exists for "a duly constituted mental health board for the county of Ulster," and it urged the supervisors to appoint such a board "with such powers as may be provided for in the pertinent laws of the State of New York."

The resolution also noted that the need for such a board was brought to the attention of the club by members of the medical profession, the judiciary, the clergy, and "by many who deal with mental health problems, and by those confronted with the mental status of many persons of all ages."

Nixon at Private Dinner

Washington, March 9 (AP)—The White House said today that Vice President Nixon was present at a private stag dinner President Eisenhower gave last night for 18-20 guests. But Assistant Press Secretary Murray Snyder told newsmen he was unable to say for sure whether there was any discussion of Nixon's political future—specifically the big question whether he will bid for another term as vice president.

Racehorse Owner Held in Robbery

New York, March 9 (AP)—The FBI announced today that a second man has been arrested in connection with the spectacular $188,000 robbery of a suburban Westchester county bank.

The second man was identified as Angelo P. John, a racehorse owner and trainer of (121 N. Broadway) White Plains, N. Y.

John was the man who was grilled yesterday by federal agents, the FBI said.

Arthur L. Paisner, 33, has been arrested as the lone bandit who looted the County Trust Company's drive-in branch at Port Chester.

Plans Underway for State To Start Ferry in April

Recent steps toward state operation of the Newburgh-Beacon ferry now point toward completion of all final arrangements by April 1, Edward J. Burns, administrative officer of the New York State Bridge Authority said today.

An agreement has been reached between Gov. Harriman and operators of the ferry, Burns indicated, and required legislation is expected to be enacted so that the state will be able to take charge next month.

Amount of the purchase price was not revealed, but some sources estimated that the purchase price is between $250,000 and $300,000.

The state is expected to continue operation of the ferry pending completion of the Newburgh-Beacon bridge on which preliminary survey work has been started.

The ferry was operated for many years by Homer Ramsdell, and Mrs. Pauline Ramsdell Odell.

The state provided for operation of the Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry through similar arrangements about a decade ago. It is due to cease operation when the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge is completed late this year.

abandoned about a half mile away from the construction project, the LaGuardia Houses, a low-rent development on the Lower East Side of Manhattan.

Few words were wasted by the holdup men.

One of them who suddenly appeared at work shack used as a temporary office told the office manager:

"Where's the money? If you make a move I'll blow your brains out."

ANOTHER wielding a sub-machine gun told Robert Catarevas, an 18-year-old typist, as he arrived for work at the same moment:

"Beat it, kid."

When the youth hesitated, asking what was going on, the gunman snarled:

"Beat it, kid. You heard me. The boy walked away."

Police said later they did not know whether the robbers had followed two payroll guards who delivered the money to the project about 7:30 a. m. or had gained entrance to the premises earlier by posing as workmen.

THE MONEY was to have been distributed to 250 employees of the Fleetway Construction Co. at 8 a. m. It had been brought to the site by guards from a lower Manhattan bank.

As the protective men drove up and halted to take the money inside the construction shack, two armed men appeared.

At the same time, Officer Manager Donald Barry and two other employees inside the work shack, being used as a temporary office, were confronted by another armed man. A fourth man remained in the car used by the group.

Those covering the payroll guards quickly dumped the money, which had been put into individual pay envelopes, into a burlap bag.

The bandits then blocked the driveway with wooden sawhorses and barred wire before making their escape.

Twelve Members of Family Are Killed in Home Fire

Oxford, Pa., March 9 (AP)—Twelve members of one family were killed last night in a fire that destroyed their two-room tar-papered home in this rural southeastern Pennsylvania community. An investigator said today "it looks like it could be foul play."

Deputy Coroner Ernest Schneider of Chester county said a thorough investigation would be made in conjunction with state police and fire officials.

The victims of the blaze were identified tentatively as the wife, children and grandchildren of John Twyman, a 36-year-old truck driver and a long-time resident of the "Bottoms" section of Oxford.

Twyman, police said, appeared at the scene of the blaze as the last of the bodies of the Negro family were being recovered from the 20 by 30 foot home. Patrolman Claude Swift said Twyman was shocked into mumbling incoherency but told him he had just returned from Baltimore.

Firemen were looking for Twyman's body when he appeared.

Schneider told a reporter "it looks like it could be foul play but we're not certain." He declined to state the reason for the foul play theory.

Fire Marshal Robert Brown said most of the victims, all apparently asleep when the blaze started, were charred beyond immediate identification. He and Swift said the victims "didn't stand a chance."

Brown identified them tentatively as:

Mrs. Catherine Twyman, 35, whom he said was pregnant, and these Twyman children—Eleanor, 20; Claudette, 16; John Twyman, Jr., 14; Josephine, 12; Stephen, 9; Dorris, 7; Lewis, 5; Janet, 3; Joseph, 8 months; and Eleanor's children—Andrew, 2, and Harriet, 16 months. Brown said Eleanor's children were born out of wedlock.

He said the home was heated by both a coal and wood stove

Board Not Sponsoring Assembly Claims Officials Missed Meetings

A Rosendale village board meeting scheduled Monday night to discuss lack of action to obtain flood relief has been officially "adjourned," but a public assembly will be held anyhow, according to one member of the Flood Control Committee.

Joseph Reid, chairman of the executive division of the committee, said he would arrange for the meeting in the Rosendale school auditorium. He stressed that the public is invited to attend the session to begin at 8 p. m.

CHAIRMAN Reid made the announcement today after he had received a letter on village board stationery signed by two trustees, John S. Helmer and George M. Herd, notifying him that the board meeting Monday had been "adjourned."

"The letter was delivered to me last night," Mr. Reid said, "by a son of Trustee Helmer."

ACCORDING to Mr. Reid the letter said:

"We have considered and investigated some of the alleged charges you have lodged against Mayor Mooney at last Monday's meeting."

"So that there will be no misunderstanding, we suggest that you reduce to writing any complaints you have against the mayor relative to village flood problems, so that we can investigate them and take appropriate action."

"We are therefore adjourning the special meeting scheduled Monday, March 12, on this matter, until after we receive such complaints in writing from you. (Signed)—George M. Herd, John S. Helmer, trustees."

Mr. Reid said he assumed the adjournment of the meeting was advised by the legal representative of the board.

AFTER RECEIVING the letter, Chairman Reid said he summoned the other members of the executive group of the flood control committee—Joseph Bianco, Henry Mollenhauer, Fred Plumb and Herbert Kimker.

Mr. Reid said it was the consensus of the group to go through with a public meeting anyhow to discuss what he called "lack of proper action to get flood relief."

"WE HAVE BEEN promised by Trustee Herd that he will attend our meeting," Mr. Reid said.

Mr. Reid allegedly called for An interdenominational chapel for meditation is now under construction at Rip's Retreat, a recreational site near Haines Falls, N. Y., during World War 2.

The chapel will be 14 by 21 feet, of Dutch design fitting in with the decor of Rip's Retreat.

Po'keepsie Club Damaged by Fire

Fire early this morning did extensive damage to the Pirates Canoe Club clubhouse at the foot of Union street, Poughkeepsie. Before the fire had been brought under control five engine companies and two trucks were summoned and the firemen battled the blaze for over two hours. Two alarms were sounded.

The cause of the fire is not known and an estimate of the damage was not available. However it was reported the bar was gutted, the kitchen badly damaged and the fire gained access to the upper floors through the walls.

An alarm was sent to the police department by a Mr. Briggs who observed the fire as he crossed the Mid-Hudson bridge. The club is located almost under the bridge and next to the Poughkeepsie Yacht Club. The alarm was sounded at 3:45 a. m. today and recall came at 5:45 a. m. Fire Chief Irving Merritt and Assistant Chiefs VanNstrand and Gardiner directed the firemen.

The club is a two-story and a half frame and brick structure. The blaze did not hamper traffic over the bridge.

Given Jail Sentences

Independence, Kan., March 9 (AP)—Four Newton, Iowa, school students, who concocted a story of being kidnaped, were given jail sentences today by a judge who told them they "appear to be very spoiled little girls." Quiet and appearing to be in deep thought, the four pleaded guilty before Judge Walter McVey, Jr., to charges of disturbing the peace and were sentenced to 30 days in the county jail here. One wiped her eyes.

Charges Ready

resignation of Mayor John Mooney at a town board meeting last Monday as spokesman for a group of approximately 15 people.

Mr. Reid's main complaint, he said, was that Mayor Mooney had not attended the various flood meetings held relative to relief for victims of the August and October disasters, which flooded their homes and property.

A SPOKESMAN defending the mayor and officials said he felt the attack unjustified because the mayor had representatives at the meetings. Others said Mayor Mooney was "on the job helping with relief details during the floods."

Relative to the letter directing that criticism of the village board members be "reduced to writing," Mr. Reid said he had this list of charges ready to present to the board:

1) At a meeting in Goshen, presided over by Senators Herbert H. Lehman and Irving M. Ives. The Rosendale Flood Control Committee was represented but neither Mayor Mooney nor a representative of his board was present.

2) On same date as Goshen meeting, Congressman J. Ernest Wharton was scheduled to be in Ellenville. Joseph Bianco and Mr. Reid of the Rosendale committee attended the conference. Neither Mayor Mooney nor a representative of his board was present.

3) The Ulster County Flood Control Committee held a series of meetings throughout the county, including one in Rosendale. Mayor Mooney did not attend nor was a representative of the mayor at the meeting. Neither the mayor nor his representative were present at similar meetings in New Paltz, Kerhonkson, Ellenville or Kingston, all of which were attended by representatives of the Rosendale group.

4) Mayor Mooney and his representative were both absent from a hearing held at the executive offices of the New York State Thruway Authority at which Bertram D. Tallamy, Thruway chairman, presided. Representatives of the Rosendale group did attend.

5) At a hearing held by the Corps of Engineers at Kingston, no village representative was present but the Rosendale Flood Control Committee was represented. Mayor Mooney was notified personally by the Corps of Engineers that the meeting was to be held.

6) The Rosendale group was represented at a meeting with Gov. Harriman in his Albany office. Mayor Mooney was not present, nor was any representative of the board present.

7) A meeting was held in Rosendale with a New York city official of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. The mayor was called by the telephone company official and said he would be there within 15 minutes. He kept the telephone company representative waiting for two hours. Supervisor George Mollenhauer, Henry Mollenhauer, Joseph Bianco, Herbert Kimmer, Fred Plumb and Mr. Reid were present. The mayor never called and the group went ahead with the meeting.

8) A meeting was held at the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. cable at Rosendale and approximately 150 persons attended. Supervisor Mollenhauer addressed the gathering, including representatives of the phone company. As a result of the meeting, the cable was relocated by the AT & T. Neither the mayor nor his representative were present.

Mr. Reid said the mayor did attend two meetings and had to be "picked up" by members of the flood control group and transported to both. One meeting was at Ellenville. Mr. Reid said, when Mayor Mooney requested fill for James street, "The mayor lives on that street," Mr. Reid declared, "and nothing else was requested by him."

Mayor Mooney also attended a meeting with J. S. Bixby, district engineer of the New York State Department of Public Works, at Poughkeepsie. Trees and stumps were removed from village property by the public works department without cost to the village as a result of that meeting, Mr. Reid said.

Mr. Reid said today that Supervisor Mollenhauer had received a letter from Mr. Tallamy, dated March 6. The letter said:

"Following your visit with Gov. Harriman last week, he requested our authority to make a most thorough study of Rondout Creek flood conditions which might in any way be related to our Thruway bridge recently constructed over that stream."

"This, of course, we are anxious to do. We have employed Mr. Anclon Pirnie of New York city, an hydraulic engineer of great prominence, to make a detailed study of water surface profiles, both before and after construction of the Thruway bridge and when Rondout Creek is discharging flood waters. Results of this study will show any effect the Thruway bridge may have upon elevation of the surface of the water during flood stages as far as Rosendale."

"Up to the present time it has not been practical to survey the creek and obtain all of the elevations necessary for him to make those hydraulic calculations because of ice conditions. We will, however, complete the survey as soon as possible when Mr. Pirnie's report has been submitted to us. We will be pleased to advise you further."

said, is holding up development of an extensive improvement program for the university's physical plant.

"If the people vote the money, things will start to move," Moore said.

Gov. Harriman says all other methods of financing the program should be explored before such a bond issue is called for. Moore said trustees were "very enthused" about their plans to establish on Long Island three community colleges and a four-year combined science-engineering school and teachers college. The plan drew some opposition at a public hearing last month.

The Regents have approved all of the program except the engineering school, which they said needed more study.

from the capital construction fund would turn the trick.

The reported GOP plan to increase school aid referred to the Heald Commission on Educational Finance which recommended an increase of at least 10 per cent for every school district in the state, to cover population growth.

The Republican leader, who declined to be identified by name, said his party figured to raise the minimum increase to 15 per cent.

THE REPUBLICAN high command, he said, also was considering providing enough additional funds to assure that rapidly growing districts would not lose emergency school construction aid and that no district would lose under a revised formula governing aid for bus transportation.

The source said funds set aside in Gov. Harriman's budget to cover the first round of aid increase, in the new fiscal year, would be sufficient also to cover the further boost contemplated by the GOP.

The Republican majorities will make public their final decisions on the matter next week, he said.

Meanwhile, it was learned in other quarters that the GOP began today to feel out the Harriman Administration on a compromise over rival plans for dealing with uninsured motorists.

Many Republicans favor straight compulsory liability insurance. The administration would like to assess uninsured drivers $30 apiece each year and put the money into a fund to compensate persons injured by the uninsured.

THE PROSPECTS of a compromise were uncertain. A possibility exists, however, that Harriman might sign a compulsory insurance bill if no alternative plan is passed.

Javits wrote to Harriman and the legislative leaders that New York had "become a refuge for many who are unskilled, untrained, uneducated and at times unscrupulous practitioners of chicanery."

Because of public opinion, he said, it is "well-nigh impossible" to get convictions under the state law that prohibits practice of medicine without a license. The state does not license chiropractors.

The attorney general asked for a "thorough study" of the matter after adjournment of the 1956 legislature.

Red Leaders

greeted by Eden at Westminster in the shadow of the House of Commons.

The foreign office announced today that Mr. Khrushchev was invited as a member of the Presidium of the Soviet Parliament rather than as first secretary of the Soviet Communist party's central committee.

It said: "On July 27, 1955, the prime minister announced in the House of Commons that Mr. Bulganin, the chairman of the council of ministers of the U.S.S.R., and Mr. Khrushchev, a member of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R., had accepted his invitation to visit the United Kingdom in the spring of 1956."

"THE SOVIET leaders will be arriving in the United Kingdom on April 18, and will stay for 10 days leaving on April 27. The detailed program for the visit will be announced in due course."

The Moscow radio broke into all its programs to make an identical announcement.

Eden gave Bulganin and Khrushchev their invitation during last year's big four summit talks at Geneva, when hopes of an end to the cold war ran high.

Later the Russian leaders upset Britain with a stream of attacks on her colonial policies during their South Asian tour. Later, however, these attacks have ended and Moscow broadcasts to Britain have been unusually diplomatic in tone.

No British or Soviet official in London would say why the visit has been extended. Khrushchev has, however, let it be known through diplomatic channels he wants to see the industrial north of Britain and that would cut into time available for talks in London.

According to the state police investigation the boy was a passenger in the car of Ruth Grosfjohann, Rosendale school teacher, which had stopped off the road to discharge passengers. The lad, allegedly left the car before the teacher could alight and guide the pupils across the road. He alighted from the right side of the car and crossed behind the car and in the path of the truck. The accident happened on Main street at the junction of the bridge road.

Dulles in India

New Delhi, India, March 9 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles arrived in India's capital today amid hopes his talks with Prime Minister Nehru would bolster sagging Indian-American relations. But few expected any major change in either country's policy would result. Observers were apprehensive that Dulles' role in the recent SEATO edict of UN plebiscite in the bitterly disputed state of Kashmir would have a damaging effect on the talks. However, Indian resentment after the SEATO action appeared subsiding somewhat.

Three Hotels Are Sold in Catskills

The Grand Hotel at Highmount and two other important resort properties in the same area have new owners, it was learned today.

Tisch Hotels, Inc., sold The Grand Hotel, one of the larger hostleries in the Catskills, to Charles Seiden, and two others, Seiden had been active in management of the hotel for several years, and his family had operated for many years before World War 2.

Frank Bland, of Fleischmanns, said the Catskill Mountain Hotel, which purchased the Pakatakan Lodge, and two cottages at Arkville from the Burhorn estate, and the Crystalbrook Hotel on Route 28 at Fleischmanns has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. James Pavlos from Mrs. Georgia Kees, of New York.

Other properties have transferred title, said the News, and it noted that "the Catskills are entering a boom in real estate." ## 100 Combinations On Licenses Used To Get Painsner

New York, March 9 (AP)—Painsner, taking juggling of a few digits on an auto license plate led the FBI to 33-year-old Arthur L. Painsner, accused of the spectacular $188,000 robbery of a suburban Westchester county bank.

The FBI says the getaway car, used after looting the County Trust Company's drive-in branch at Port Chester, belonged to Painsner.

The federal agents said yesterday an unidentified resident of the neighborhood was able to recall some of the digits on the license plate of a car which roared away from a parking lot shortly after the robbery last Friday.

The federal agents and local police tried more than 100 license combinations—containing the remembered digits—before one grouping led to Painsner. He was picked up late Wednesday afternoon in a Bronx hospital where he went to have a cyst removed two days after the holdup.

THE LICENSE trail led to a Bronx garage, agents said, they found $111,640 in cash in the trunk of Painsner's car.

Painsner and an unidentified companion are accused of kidnapping Mrs. Mary F. Kostolos, 52, a teller at the bank, the night before the holdup. She said two men drove her around all night, playing her with questions about bank routine and personnel.

At the bank, one man took over after Mrs. Kostolos was forced to open the door. The lone bandit intercepted two male bank employees as they came to work. One of them, Purdy Ungemack, had to haul the cash loot—in a wastebasket and big cardboard container—out to Mrs. Kostolos' car parked outside.

The bandit made off in the woman's car and later transferred to another auto.

The FBI announced yesterday that another man was being questioned as Painsner's possible companion in the robbery.

sible companion in the robbery. The second man did not take part in the bank holdup.

LATER yesterday, U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams said: "There is no evidence to order the arrest of a second suspect for the crime."

Painsner, a horse trainer, is being held in $100,000 bail after arraignment yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Earle N. Bishop.

Williams said Painsner told him he used a toy pistol in the daring, well-timed holdup.

Williams further quoted Painsner as saying:

"I don't want to identify my accomplice. I will have to live with myself a long time and I imagine I will get a long jail sentence. You will get him quickly enough."

The U. S. attorney said Painsner also told him he gave $55,000 to an accomplice. What happened to the rest of the money, some $22,000, has not been disclosed.

ASKED WHY Painsner left the money in his automobile, Williams said:

"He said he didn't know what else to do with it."

"He did not want to leave it in his (Bronx) home because it would implicate his mother, and he did not want to leave it in his girl friend's house because that might have implicated her."

Williams added that Painsner was arrested last year for illegal possession of a gun, found in the car of his girl friend, Susan Bayza of (1749 Parkview avenue) the Bronx.

Painsner pleaded guilty to the charge in Westchester county last Feb. 7 and paid a $100 fine, Williams said.

Knowing How to Fall Helped Save Dancer

New York, March 9 (AP)—A 23-year-old ballet dancer credited her professional knowledge with saving her from more serious injury when she fell today from an automobile entering the Queens midtown tunnel.

Renee Miles, of 69-50 Ingram St. Forest Hills, Queens, told police she was able to fall in such a way as to prevent more serious injury.

Miss Miles, suffering from cuts and bruises, was taken to Bellevue Hospital for X-rays.

Miss Miles fell from the car driven by her escort, William Delahunt, 32, of 321 64th St., Brooklyn, when the door suddenly opened, police said. The two were driving to Miss Miles' home after spending the evening in Manhattan.

Police said Miss Miles' mother, Anne, is a former movie actress and now the owner of the Mayflower Restaurant, 69th St. and Madison Ave., Manhattan.

Connecticut Survey Shows Ike Assured of Big Vote

(Editor's Note: This is one in a series of stories by the AP's national political reporters who are surveying the situation across the country in the light of President Eisenhower's decision to seek a second term.)

By RELMAN MORIN

Hartford, Conn., March 9 (AP)—A zooming graph of business activity, not President Eisenhower's cardiogram, appears to be the over-riding political factor in Connecticut today.

For many people, present high levels of employment and income in the state more than balance any uncertainties arising from Eisenhower's heart attack.

The man on the street seems prepared to let Eisenhower judge his own capabilities. Meanwhile, everybody likes prosperity.

As Joseph Pane, a Danbury machine designer, put it:

"WE'VE HAD four good years. I go on the theory Ike will last another four, so I'm for the same ticket."

Or Joseph Krzyz, Thompsonville factory safety supervisor and a Democrat:

"I voted for Ike in '52, and what I do this year depends on who the Democrats nominate, not on Eisenhower's health. I think he's been good for us."

WELL, THIN ice still is edging ponds in Connecticut, and sugar sap still turns to icicles on branches of maple trees. It's still winter here. So samplings of opinion you get today may wholly change before November's Election Day.

But these factors look significant now:

1. Democrats talk more about shrinking Eisenhower's 1952 Connecticut margin—130,000—and capturing a seat in the U. S. Senate than of carrying the state for their presidential candidate.

2. Republicans are so confident that they are beginning to caution each other against apathy and over-confidence.

CONNECTICUT is a good place to watch both parties because it fits no particular political mold.

It is strongly oriented toward New York, yet it also feels the pull of New England. It is one of the nation's great workshops, yet politicians say it is basically Republican.

But it has a Democratic governor, personable Abraham Ribicoff, who seems more popular today than when he was elected, and a GOP House.

In short, voters tend to be independent, tough-minded. They are ingrained with the town meeting tradition.

HERE IS what they have been saying to this reporter on major aspects of the coming election: Eisenhower - plus - prosperity seems, to Republicans, to mean a sure victory in the fall with at least as great a majority as he had in 1952, maybe bigger. They don't believe his illness will be a drawback.

Said John F. Sweeney, a Rockville advertising man:

"I think he'll live longer than if he hadn't had that attack. Anyway, businessmen here were certainly pleased with his announcement."

THE DEMOCRATIC city clerk of Rockville, E. Fenton Burke, said however:

"His illness is going to cost him votes. Yes, the prosperity angle is important, but even so, a lot of independent voters will come to us—not to the Republican vice president."

Mostly, however, Democrats say they hope to cut down Eisenhower's margin, perhaps by half. If so, they say they have a good chance of electing Rep. Thomas Dodd to the Senate seat now held by Prescott Bush.

AS FOR THE Democratic presidential candidate, the situation in Connecticut is best described as "fluid." Adlai Stevenson has his admirers here, but so has Sen. Estes Kefauver. In 1952, Stevenson was unable to carry a single county.

Fairly recently, Gov. Ribicoff declared his support for Stevenson and Stevenson asked him to campaign for him in Florida and California. Ribicoff says he has not decided.

Results of the New Hampshire and Minnesota primary elections this month could have a profound effect on Connecticut Democrats. Now the question of Republican candidate for vice president—of more than usual interest this year.

SO FAR AS Connecticut is concerned, it seems to be Richard M. Nixon. You can get that not only from GOP party heads but from the man on the street.

State Chairman Clarence Baldwin, to be sure, said he would not take a position on the question at this time. But he added, "I have a great deal of respect for Nixon's ability and

Air Force Cuts Basic for Economy

Scott Air Force Base, Ill., March 9 (AP)—The Air Training Command has announced a change in the basic training program for air force personnel to save money.

The savings in airmen's salaries alone will be about 10 million dollars a year, ATC officials here said yesterday.

Under the new plan recruits will receive only six weeks basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex., Park AFB, Calif., or Sampson AFB, N. Y., instead of 11 weeks.

They will receive the rest of the basic training at the same time they receive specialized training at seven technical training bases. The new airmen will get the same amount of basic and technical training by working longer each day.

This change, the ATC said, could make possible the closing of Sampson AFB and a shutdown of basic training at Parks AFB, both steps recently recommended to the air force by the ATC.

BUSINESS PULSE IS STRONG

In late winter, 1956, many experts say the American economy is at a kind of crossroads. The moment is at hand for a turning toward heavier business activity, if it is to come this year.

Spring normally brings advances in key lines. This time they are especially needed to offset slides in motor making and home building.

If the usual gains do not materialize, then the warning signals against recession would be hoisted.

Most economists probably would say that President Eisenhower's decision to run again is capable of providing the spark the economy needs.

His announcement did not produce a rocketing upsurge on the stock market, but the fact was that a favorable answer had been anticipated since his doctor's promising report. Prices already had risen considerably.

In the long run, of course, businessmen are chiefly influenced not by trends in politics but by the hard economic prospects they see ahead.

If those signs are good, then sooner or later they will be reflected in an upturn.

Nevertheless, it is fair to say that businessmen undoubtedly are encouraged that they may see another five years' continuance of what they regard as the congenial climate of the Eisenhower administration.

Surely if the President's decision had been "no" both the market and the business community generally would have felt a substantial shock.

Not even that could have affected the economy for too long if business factors were bright. But it conceivably could have contributed to a short recession.

That danger is passed. Whether or not Mr. Eisenhower's affirmative decision provides the spark, it will at least clear the air and allow the nation's business leaders to make their own decisions without extraneous worries.

If a recession should now develop, this will suggest the presence of strong negative economic factors, for example, a feeling that credit is overextended, that car buyers are perhaps oversold, and so on.

Should the reverse prove true and the current slight sag be wiped out in a new upward thrust, Mr. Eisenhower can take some of the credit but most will belong to the country's basically healthy business condition.

Probably the next 60 days will tell how the economic story is going to run in 1956.

Baseball spring training is underway and while the teams spend weeks getting in shape fans spend the time profitably trying to think up good excuses to get off to see the opening game.

EXIT THE EGG SHELL

Modern technology is hastening the day when a city child won't know what a real egg looks like.

Plastic packages for eggs have taken the place of the egg shell. Such egg packages are already on sale in Ithaca, N. Y., and parts of Maine as part of a test of consumer reaction.

These plastic packets contain 12 compartments, each holding an egg or two. A machine breaks open the eggs and drops them into individual compartments, which are then machine-sealed with strong film.

These egg packets are convenient for the housewife who need no longer worry about breakage, buying bad eggs, or disposing of egg shells.

Farmers find the plastic packages a boon because they offer an opportunity for disposing of "pee-wees." Two of these small eggs may be placed in one compartment. In addition, the farmer need no longer be concerned about the consumer debate of white-shelled versus brown-shelled eggs.

But pity the poor child who will never be able to hope for a chick instead of a yolk inside the shell. He must also learn, as children have been learning for a generation or so, that bossy is not a milk bottle.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

EXIT A DEITY

Death came to Stalin, as to all men, and the least he deserves of a country which he ruled so mightily is that the anniversary of his death should be observed, either as a celebration or as a day of memory. But of this, he has now been deprived and in such organs of slanted opinion as "Pravda" in Moscow or the "Daily Worker" in New York, he received no special mention. They can take his demise or leave it. Also they are removing his pictures from the walls, lest children grow up wondering who he is.

Thus, one who made himself into a deity, whose ikons were carried in huge processions, having passed out of this world, is now declared by Herr Ulbricht of East Germany as not a Marxist classic, this same Ulbricht who used to extol Stalin as a Slavic Wotan and in whose interest he betrayed his national and racial traditions.

Perhaps it is all for the best. We, in this country, who do not take our great men too seriously, celebrate the birth of only one universally; that is George Washington's birthday. Many states also celebrate the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. Franklin D. Roosevelt's natal day is celebrated in Kentucky and the Virgin Islands, which is not as well as Robert E. Lee has done, for eight states remember him and three others have him as an optional holiday, making a total of 11.

Considering all the great men we have had in this area since Columbus discovered it and Dwight D. Eisenhower presides over it, more or less, few have established themselves as worthy of annual commemoration either to mark a birth or a death. And none among us has ever achieved the role of a deity such as befell Stalin who was adulated until it must have turned his stomach. Among the chief adulators are those who now declare him to have been nothing, just a guy who imitated Ivan the Terrible and fooled Roosevelt and Churchill at Tehran and Yalta. For that should he get a golden statue? That was to be on top of the tallest building in the world but now they have cancelled it out. Competitive co-existence does not require such a tall building.

But out of the repudiation of Stalin's memory has come an idea which seems new to those who are not students of the situation. It is that to achieve socialism, it is not necessary to overthrow a government by force and violence. This is Khrushchev's great contribution to Marcan dialectics, although Marx himself in the "Communist Manifesto" tells of 10 ways to overthrow a capitalist government and force and violence are not the most revolutionary. In fact, the most revolutionary, the most destructive is the graduated income tax and all that Khrushchev needs to do, to see how correct Karl Marx was, is to have a good look at the United States and Great Britain to learn how much damage the graduated income tax can do to solid countries and how speedily it brings on socialism without overthrowing the government by force and violence.

In the first place, this income tax destroys the middle class, the bourgeoisie, which in every civilization is the core of the nation, the strong, hard-thinking initiation of creative element that is essential to the continuance of civilization. In fact, in Soviet Russia, one of the first acts of Bolshevism was the development of such a middle class, consisting principally of party members and those who possessed technical and artistic skills, all of whom gained special privileges. And while this was being accomplished in Soviet Russia under Stalin, this creative class is being wiped out in the Western world by the graduated income tax which, punitively collected by a host of underpaid bureaucrats, leaves men without the incentive to accomplish more than they must to get by. It also has the effect of stimulating lawlessness, for the really able find ways of evading the tax or of making for themselves special privileges which bring to them benefits which other citizens cannot have under the law.

So Mr. Khrushchev need not look too far to discover how to accomplish socialism without force and violence. It can be done by taxation and has been so done in the United States and Great Britain—to mention only two countries. (Copyright, 1956, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

ANTIBIOTICS TO PREVENT DISEASE

We have been talking lately about the wonder drugs, the antibiotics such as penicillin, aureomycin, and the sulfas and the various diseases in whose treatment they have proved so effective. There is another use of these drugs that is gradually being uncovered and that is the manner in which they can prevent disease.

Thousands of persons have chronic diseases but can live long and comfortable lives if they can avoid infections which may turn the tide of life against them. Why can't such persons take antibiotics day after day, even year after year, to prevent dangerous infections and to help control their underlying disease by avoiding "last straw" complications. The reason for this is that bacteria are known to build up resistance against antibiotics given regularly.

However, in one condition, namely rheumatic fever, the danger of reinfection is so great that it is considered a greater risk not to give the drugs than to give them. As we know, patients who have recovered from rheumatic fever are vulnerable to recurrent attacks which may seriously injure the heart or kill outright. Acute attacks are usually preceded by streptococcal infections and it is now accepted practice to give daily doses of sulfa drugs or antibiotics to prevent such infections in threatened persons. It must be remembered, of course, that these patients take the drugs under close medical supervision. There have been very few side-effects from such treatment and this has encouraged some research workers to try long-term antibiotic preventive treatment in conditions just as dangerous as rheumatic fever.

Diabetes is an example. About one million people in this country are under treatment for this disease and it is estimated there are another million who have it though not recognized. The great majority of diabetics live essentially normal lives, thanks to insulin and diet. However, diabetics are unusually susceptible to certain kinds of infection, particularly of the urinary tract, the feet, and to skin infections such as boils and carbuncles. Such infections may throw a diabetic out of control, under the benefits of insulin, and start him on a rapid downhill course. If infection can be prevented, this catastrophe would not occur. Accordingly, 94 diabetics received a half gram of aureomycin every day for periods averaging about twenty months while a similar group received no drug. It was found that there was a definite reduction of urinary and chest infections in the antibiotic group.

Dr. Walter Finke of Genesee Hospital in Rochester has given regular doses of antibiotics to children for an entire school year. The young patients were chronic coughers who had one respiratory infection after another and were out of school a good deal of the time. School absences were cut in half among youngsters who received regular antibiotics as compared with those who did not. Chronic respiratory infections that flare up repeatedly, with brief intermissions, not only interfere with normal childhood activities and schooling but may lead to permanent lung damage and disability in later life. Dr. Finke believes that daily antibiotics for these children (not the child who has an occasional cold and gets over it) may have long-term preventive values indeed, enduring a lifetime.

Tomorrow we will have a last discussion on antibiotics, this time from the point of view of their value in agriculture and stock-raising.

"Always Happy to Lend a Hand"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington —(NEA)— Lay-offs of over 80,000 workers during January and February in the automobile, parts and farm implement manufacturing industries have given labor union officials just the argument they need for further GAW, or guaranteed annual wage, demands.

Three fourths of these layoffs are in Michigan. The rest are in Indiana, Illinois, California, New York, Wisconsin and Ohio. Up to March 1, none of the laid off had been recalled.

The United Auto Workers contracts negotiated last summer run until June, 1958.

It is generally expected that there will be demands for increased supplementary benefits when these contracts are opened up again for renewal.

United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald has let it be known that he will seek supplementary unemployment insurance benefits in new contract negotiations opening with the steelmakers in May.

NO SUPPLEMENTARY unemployment benefits have as yet been paid to the auto workers. Their new plan does not go into effect until June 1.

The year before that date is being used to build up an estimated 15-million-dollar reserve from which future benefits can be paid. The fund comes from employer contributions of five cents an hour for every hour worked by their employees, including paid holiday and vacation time.

What the laid-off auto workers are getting now is regular state unemployment insurance compensation. But when the new plan goes into full effect, every worker laid off for reasons which will entitle him to state unemployment compensation will get an additional benefit from the reserve fund.

This will bring his income up to a maximum of 65 per cent of his straight time take-home pay for a 40-hour-week.

A COUPLE OF TYPICAL examples for Michigan auto workers show how the system will work out. Take the case of an employee making $2.10 an hour, or $84 a week. Sixty-five per cent of that would be $52.20 a week, the maximum benefit payable for up to 26 weeks unemployment under the UAW contracts.

Present Michigan unemployment compensation law gives a man with a wife but no children $33 a week when laid off. Under the new plan he'll get $14 a week more, or $47.

A laid-off worker with a wife and two children now gets $43 a week. Under the new plan he'll get $10 a week more, or $53, which is close to his maximum. The supplementary payments will vary from state to state, depending on local unemployment insurance law. But in all, more than a million workers are now covered.

The UAW contracts provide that the new, supplementary benefit plan would go into effect when approved by states having two-thirds of the auto industry workers.

TO DATE there has been approval for over 70 per cent of the auto workers in nine states—California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania.

Only Ohio has thus far turned it down, in a referendum vote last fall.

Most automobile company executives are now reconciled to the fact that the supplementary benefit plan is a good one to help stabilize the income of their workers.

There is, however, a movement among some Michigan employers to oppose integration of existing state unemployment insurance systems with supplementary benefit plans.

The idea is to fight extension of the guaranteed annual wage principle in the state legislature and the courts, before the new plan goes into full effect.

Nixon Issue Seen Hurting Eisenhower in Election

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 9—Defeat of President Eisenhower for reelection has become a distinct possibility.

The press conference remarks of the President on Wednesday of this week have made inevitable a bitter fight inside the Republican party. It may not be settled at the national convention in August and could definitely influence enough votes in November to cause a serious disaffection among regular Republicans and hence a large "stay-at-home" vote.

If Mr. Eisenhower had repeated what he said a week ago—namely, that he would not discuss the vice-presidency because as yet he himself has not been nominated—he would have been on sound ground. But when the President revealed that he had told Vice President Nixon that he must "chart his own course," he was, in effect, opening up the whole subject for controversial discussion. This now will be intensified by the backers of rival candidates.

IN MANY RESPECTS the press conference this week transcended in political importance the one a week ago. The first was merely an announcement that Ike would run, while the second conference raised the distinct possibility that he may be defeated by a split in his own party.

For it is plain to see that the people around the President who have his ear have overestimated Mr. Eisenhower's political strength. They forget that in 1952, while the President carried many states, the margin was very close in several of them. This margin of victory was made possible in many cases by the indefatigable efforts of the Taft wing led by the late Senator from Ohio himself.

There will be no such force of harmony to pull the party together again if it splits on the Nixon issue. Abandoning Mr. Nixon will certainly be interpreted as a move hostile to the Taft wing of the party, which still controls many state organizations, and it is the enthusiastic support of such organizations which is most necessary for victory.

IN THE EFFORT to persuade the President to run, many of his advisers took the line that he was "sure to win." Then, however, when he made the decision to run, they permitted a serious doubt to be raised as to whether Mr. Nixon should or should not be on the ticket. They argued that he was a "liability." What isn't generally known is that in the 1954 congressional contests Mr. Nixon saved the Republican party from a humiliating defeat in several western states. He did so by vigorous campaigning that earned for him the undying enmity of his political opponents.

It would be the biggest break the Democrats could get if Mr. Nixon is eliminated from the ticket in 1956. Once he is kept out of the vice presidential nomination, of course, he will not draw crowds or produce a fraction of the political effect that he has heretofore.

THE DISAFFECTION inside the Republican party is difficult to measure. This writer wrote in January of this year wrote a magazine article with praise for the President's leadership and indicating that he ought to run again, whereupon a very heavy mail came from Republicans who said they had voted for Ike in 1952 but were nudging themselves never to do so again.

High up in the political councils of the Republican party they know more about these disaffections than they let on. The White House, which sometimes seems insulated against the political facts of life, appears to be unaware of it.

Politically speaking, Mr. Eisenhower is often revealed as naive. This is sometimes a virtue, but in campaign strategy it can be fatal.

THUS, THE PRESIDENT gave the Democrats plenty of help on the health issue at this week's press conference by continuing to talk about it. Obviously, the reporters will bait him on the health question if he affords them the least opportunity. Whatever definitive effect the President may have created by his television speech on March 7 was swept away by nationwide headlines telling of his feeling of doubt and uncertainty concerning his future health as reflected in answers to questions at the press conference.

The President does not seem to have learned how to avoid answering embarrassing questions at press conferences. He often plays into the hands of his political opponents. A few more press conferences like the one this week and Chairman Butler of the Democratic National Committee will not need to discuss the health issue at all.

Mr. Eisenhower's move should have been to keep silent about such a personal question, leaving it to the day-by-day dispatches to reveal whether he is able to do his job. Time is a great healer and, in many months elapsing before the November election, an impression of normal handling of the President's job could have been created in the news dispatches telling of his activities. If Mr. Eisenhower, on the other hand, is going to put the matter into the headlines each week with doubts and misgivings of his own, the American people will begin to believe the Democratic party's whispers and its gloomy arguments about the health issue.

FROM A SURE thing—based on a united party and intensive organization activity—the race now has shifted to one of grave doubt. As of today, the chances of re-election for President Eisenhower are probably only 50-50, which is not a comfortable outlook, especially with the many adverse breaks in politics that can come in the field of economic and international affairs between now and November. ## BABSON on BUSINESS

DECISION TO RUN AGAIN

Babson Park, Mass., March 9—Last December there were published in this newspaper 50 forecasts by me for 1956. The first stated, "President Eisenhower will be re-nominated and re-elected in 1956." The last of these 50 forecasts stated, "I now see no depression ahead for 1956, but, of course, stock prices will not 'grow to the skies' and there must be a sad readjustment some day." The remaining 48 forecasts, which I have brought up to date in view of the events of the last three months, are as follows:

The President will be relieved of much speech making, entertainment and detail work. Competition will be very severe.

Higher wages may be expected. Increased advertising appropriations will be seen.

Recent policies of the money managers will be shifted to more "ease."

Liberal credits to the purchasers of houses, automobiles, televisions, etc. will continue to be a strong support to business.

Great sums will continue to be spent on research and new plant expansion.

The baby boom will roll merrily on, resulting in more sales.

Predicted declines will come in auto and residential building, but will largely be offset by expenditures for roads, sewers and schools.

Retail business will be handicapped in some cities by the parking nuisance.

No appreciable price improvement in city business property is likely.

Building costs will continue high.

Speculative builders will have to watch their step more closely.

The limiting of rents will be practically abolished.

Owners of costly apartment buildings will find their profit margins squeezed harder.

Commercial farms need not suffer.

More well-located "close-in" farms will become subdivisions and shopping centers.

The "cold war" now existing between Russia and the United States will continue.

The threat of the hydrogen bomb and guided missile will be the greatest international factor for diplomatic trading.

The Republicans will turn slightly "New Dealish."

Some "dark horse" may run off with the Democratic nomination. Some taxes will be reduced.

The farm problem will be the center of most political fights.

The cost of living will increase only slightly.

There need be no further inflation during 1956.

Expanding farm subsidies will mildly bolster farm income.

Wheat and corn prices will also depend upon shifting weather and foreign conditions.

Look for selective easing in industrial commodity prices.

Do not expect any cut in the price of steel.

Zinc and lead may give a tip-off to the coming downtrend in nonferrous metals.

Processed and frozen foods will advance only slightly, if any.

There will be more leisure time during 1956.

School teachers will be paid more.

More people will continue to return to the help of religion.

The administration will not allow high money costs to bring about unemployment.

Seasoned dividend-paying stocks will do better.

There will be one or two bad stock-market breaks during 1956.

I have great confidence in the "top-ten" group of variety chain stocks.

The money managers will reduce stock margins.

Bank insurance and certain investment trust stocks should continue to be a refuge for the uncertain investors who seek security and income without reference to prices or marketability.

Certain aircraft stocks will suffer.

continue to be bitter political fights up to the day of election, and the international situation will remain severely unsettled.

Allegheny River Subsides Slowly

Warren, Pa., March 9 (AP)—Life in Warren began a slow return to normal today as muddy flood waters of the Allegheny river subsided slowly.

Daylight today found the river nearly a foot below last night's crest of 18.4 feet and the water was continuing to recede. However reports of higher water in upstream communities of northwestern Pennsylvania and southern New York state indicated it would be days before many of the 500 evacuated Warren families could get back to their homes.

OPERATIONS at the Warren General Hospital, completely surrounded by the flood water, were running along on an even keel. Nurses on duty during the night were taken from the hospital aboard trucks that crawled slowly through nearly three feet of water. The trucks brought in new shifts of nurses to take over the work.

At the hospital switchboard, Miss Rita Johns maintained communications with her equipment perched on boxes three feet above the inch of water on the office floor. The basement was flooded.

Civilian Defense workers and volunteer firemen had pumps roaring in the hospital in an effort to lower the water level. They made only slow progress.

Travel into the community was still detoured around high water blockades through the north and west. But in downtown Warren most stores were opening for business as usual with the flood rolling slowly by within 100 yards of their doors.

THE FLOOD rolled in yesterday morning with only scant notice, climbing to a 20th century record of 18.4 feet. It inundated a large section of this northwestern Pennsylvania town of 15,000, creeping into the edge of the business district and forcing many industries to shut down.

Schools were closed today and many factories made emergency payroll arrangements for workers unable to reach their plant.

But in all of the drenching water there were no casualties and the evacuation of more than 500 families was carried out by police, firemen, Red Cross and civilian defense volunteers without major incident. Nearly all of the homeless found overnight shelter with friends and neighbors on higher ground. The Red Cross sent 20 disaster workers here.

BITTER WINTER weather blew in on the heels of the flood and helped curb the rising waters. It added to the discomfort of the homeless and of the emergency crews but this was more than offset by the quicker ending of the flood.

Flood stage at Warren, where the Conewango Creek flows into the Allegheny, is 14 feet. In the last major flood in 1947 the river reached a level of 17.4 feet and caused a half-million dollars in damage. Estimates were that the damage total would be higher this time and Burgess William E. Rise marshalled the disaster forces by declaring a community emergency.

NEW YORKER WAIVES Hearing in Cases

New York, March 9 (Special)—A New Yorker waived a hearing in Felony Court here Wednesday on a charge of stealing a wallet from George Ashdown, of 52 Smith avenue, Kingston.

Charges against Willie Williams, 51, of 770 St. Nicholas avenue, New York, were referred by Magistrate Reuben Levy to Special Sessions Court for prosecution.

Ashdown claimed that Williams had stolen his wallet, containing $75, during a flurry of apologies after the New York man spit on Ashdown's pants. The two were on the New York Central Railroad platform at 125th street and Park avenue, New York, on Feb. 27, when the incident occurred.

The Kingston man said that Williams brushed his pants off carefully with his hand, and that he noticed his wallet was missing just after Williams left.

He said he chased the pick-pocket, caught him and held him till cops could get there.

Deafness Topic At Kiwanis Club

The conservation of hearing at the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Center was the subject of a talk delivered at the noon luncheon of the Kingston Kiwanis Club by Dr. Elbert Loughran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger H. Loughran of Hurley.

Dr. Loughran's talk was supplemented with a film taken at the local cerebral palsy center, by George Mustaparta of Kingston.

THE SPEAKER explained that there were two types of deafness—the loss of hearing by conduction, and deafness caused by nerve damage. The conduction of hearing was portrayed as a "bass drum effect," with its loss due to colds, infections, wax, or anything that would block sound. The nerve type of hearing was described as a "deeper type" which can be affected by loud noises which cause damage to the nerves leading to the brain.

AN ESTIMATED two million children are at one time or another in their lives subject to defective hearing, according to Dr. Loughran. Prompt attention to these hearing difficulties can eliminate deafness in the future, according to the speaker, who pointed out that it was such treatment that is given at the local Cerebral Palsy Clinic.

The local Kiwanis Club has outfitted a hearing room at the Cerebral Palsy Clinic center, and Dr. Loughran praised the Kiwanians highly for their civic interest and attention to the problem of the conservation of hearing.

'India Is Not a Communist Country' Says Indian Ambassador to Audience of 1,200

"India is not a Communist country and will never become one," said Dr. Gaganvihari L. Mehta, Indian ambassador to the United States and Mexico to more than 1200 people in an address at the State Teachers College in New Paltz last night.

"There are three definite reasons why India will never become Communist," Dr. Mehta pointed out. "First, because of the deep religious consciousness of its people; second, because of the Indian people's conception of their own laws; and third, because of India's democratic form of government."

Dr. Mehta's address was the last of a series of 13 seminar programs sponsored by the Teachers College. The seminars have covered a wide range of topics dealing with the life of the Indian people today, their institutions, leaders and government.

Dr. Mehta told the audience last night that the college rendered a service to both countries through its series and was deeply appreciative for it.

During an open discussion period following the ambassador's speech, the question of India's neutrality was asked. To this, Dr. Mehta replied: "Today, no country can remain neutral in the sense of remaining indifferent or aloof. India is not a country of neutrality but one of non-alignment."

He further pointed out India's attempts toward world peace — their mediation in the Korean and Indo-Chinese disputes.

Dr. Mehta has had a distinguished career in business and public life and was appointed to his present position in 1952. He was educated at the University of Bombay and the London School of Economics, served for a time as assistant editor of the Bombay Chronicle and spent many years as an executive officer of the Scindia Steam Navigation Company, Ltd. At the attainment of Indian independence in 1947, he was appointed president of the tariff board under the National Government of India.

Hutton was one of nine men at the college who received a "perfect" average.

Hutton was recently elected president of his freshman class at Clarkson.

The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Hutton, he resides at 66 Hunter street. He is a freshman majoring in business administration.

Reactions Vary Concerning Sale of Religious Programs

New York, March 8 (AP)—Broadcasting networks today had varying reactions to a protest by a national church agency against the sale—or commercial sponsorship—of religious program time.

"It's a delicate question," a network official said.

The broadcasters also said that the church group's plea that religion be given "desirable" airtime free of charge already is being met—to the extent that competitive circumstances permit.

"If the religious programs had more audience-pulling power," a network spokesman said, "we'd give them a better spot."

THE COMMENTS were in response to action Tuesday by the broadcasting and film commission of the National Council of Churches, opposing "paid" religious shows—and urging free "public service" handling.

At present, all three major networks provide some free time to representative religious groups for broadcasts, usually during Sunday daytime hours.

Two networks, the American Broadcasting Co. and the Mutual Broadcasting System, also have numerous commercial sponsored or purchased-time religious shows—17 of them altogether.

The National Broadcasting Co. is considering selling time for religious broadcasts, on a select basis, while the Columbia Broadcasting System has a standing policy against the practice.

THE CHURCH council's broadcasting and film commission heard a report yesterday that Protestant and eastern orthodox churches of the nation are spending about five million dollars a year to promote Christianity by radio, television, recordings and films.

The commission of the council—which represents 30 denominations with 35½ million members—adopted a record 1956 budget of $1,748,980 for production of religious radio and television programs and films. The budget is $346,000 above last year's.

The commission's director of films, the Rev. Alexander B. Ferguson, called the 1945-1955 period "the pioneer era in the church's attempt to be serious about audio visuals." He said that during that decade the churches spent more than 30 million dollars in this field. He added that current spending for this purpose is "20 to 40 times more than in 1945."

HE ALSO TOLD the commission's annual meeting that "church production forces have yet to find a format, a style of production, and a length, best suited for church use."

He said there now are at least 1,300 religious films available to churches, 85 per cent of them produced since 1945, and about 60 per cent of the churches—some 50,000 of them—have motion picture projectors.

Commenting on the commission's action of Tuesday, George Crothers, director of CBS education and religious broadcasts, said: "Fundamentally, it's a matter of taste."

"WHEN YOU MIX religion with commercialism—with selling cars, refrigerators, soap and cigarettes, it gets hard to draw the line on what is good taste and what is bad taste," he said.

A spokesman for ABC, which carries three major commercially sponsored religious shows and also sells time to a number of religious groups, said:

"Paid religious broadcasting has its place on ABC radio and television, just as our allocation of free time for religious programs also has its place on our network."

Edward Stanley, manager of NBC public service programs, said the network's past policy against selling religious time "probably is in the process of transition."

BUT HE SAID any paid shows accepted must meet high fixed standards. "We'll use a great deal of discretion," he said.

The network is considering selling time to evangelist Billy Graham, whose organization also purchases time on ABC and the Mutual Network.

As for the view of the National Church Commission, that representative church bodies should get more desirable free time, Stanley said:

"We work very closely and very hard with the commission, and we think the time we now provide as a public service is good time, although it's not prime time."

Time for NBC radio shows as the National Radio Pulpit, the Eternal Light, the Art of Living, Faith in Action, and the Catholic Hour, and TV shows, such as Frontiers of Faith, is provided free in daytime Sunday.

"THE IDEA of moving a religious show to Sunday evening comes up from time to time," Stanley said, "but it doesn't seem likely considering the competitive state of the industry."

"It might mean we'd lose our audience for the whole evening," Crothers also said that any change of moving free-time religious shows into more competitive hours was a matter of getting their quality high enough

St. Paul's Church Remodeling Plans To Be Discussed

Saugerties, March 8—Plans and the initial architect's drawing of the proposed re-modeling of the sanctuary of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp will be offered for the approval of the Church Council at the re-scheduled meeting of the church directors Sunday at 8 p. m. in the parish hall.

O. H. Murray of Rhinebeck, well known architect of church buildings has submitted preliminary drawings showing changes in the interior of the historic West Camp church.

The proposed changes would enlarge the chancel, re-arrange the choir seating, reconstruct and electrify the organ and construct a center aisle in place of two aisles now in use in the sanctuary. Seating arrangements would have to be changed to permit two side aisles in addition to the center aisle.

A building fund established some time ago will serve as a nucleus for a campaign among the members for funds to defray the cost of re-modeling.

The completion of the work on the interior of the sanctuary will be the culminating program of an extended building program of the church which has been responsible for the re-modeling of the parish hall, the paved parking area, the new landscaping and front entrance walk, the parsonage garage and the roof of the church.

All improvements prior to the building of the new parsonage garage were accomplished during the pastorate of the Rev. Henry M. Schumann who left West Camp a year ago to serve a mission congregation in Arlington, Va.

The present pastor of St. Paul's Church is the Rev. Alvin F. Messersmith who served a Lutheran congregation in Rochester. The West Camp church, one of four of the oldest established Lutheran churches in the Hudson Valley, was organized in 1710.

TILLSON NEWS

Dr. E. F. Galvin Addresses P-TA

Tillson, March 8—Dr. Eugene F. Galvin of Rosendale was guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of Tillson Parent-Teacher Association held Thursday evening at the school. Dr. Galvin spoke on the subject, "Polio Vaccine." The speaker outlined the history and progress of the vaccine, stating facts that were of great interest to the members present. Dr. Galvin pointed out that, there was insufficient supply of Salk vaccine to assure all parents that their children (up to 14 years of age) would receive one shot within a short time. He advised parents desiring their children to have the vaccination to call their doctor and have the child's name placed on the waiting list.

The vaccine now manufactured and distributed, the doctor explained, is safe to use, in his opinion and that of the authorities. That is one reason for the lack of supply; it takes longer to manufacture, test and approve the safe vaccine. Although there is no free vaccine, the charge for receiving it is nominal. Dr. Galvin stressed the point that all children should receive this vaccine.

Kindergarten Has Assembly Plan

Tillson, March 8—An interesting assembly program and a hobby exhibit took place at the Tillson School Friday, March 2, with several mothers attending.

The assembly program was put on by pupils of the kindergarten, under the direction of Mrs. G. Bond. It featured a rhythm band, and a number of songs.

The auditorium was turned into a regular exhibit hall when the children of all grades set up their hobby exhibits. Among the various displays were stamp collections, rock collections, handicrafts, picture drawing, cooking, hunting, music displays and nature study collections. These were very interesting, and the visitors inspected the displays, asking questions about the hobbies from the children who had put on the displays. Prizes were awarded to the exhibitors. Judges included Mrs. Howard Sutherland, Mrs. Nathaniel Phillips and Mrs. Irving DuBois. Food on display was enjoyed by the visitors.

During an intermission, Pat Hill and Janet Wakeley sang a number of western songs.

Following his talk, a question and answer period followed. Since this topic is of vital interest to all parents, the local PTA arranged to have Dr. Galvin speak and present the true facts about the polio vaccine.

During the regular business session, the association decided to hold the annual stage show and dance, the Frolics, on Saturday, May 12. The show will run from 8:15 to 9:45, and dancing will take place from 10 p. m. to midnight. H. E. Harvey, show director, was present, and explained details of the show. More details and plans will be announced at the April meeting.

Ulster Kiwanis Hears Talk on Conservation

The New York State Conservation Department presently operates with a personnel of 5,000 and a budget of $21,000,000, William Goodman, district game protector, told members of Ulster Kiwanis at their Wednesday evening meeting at the Airport Inn.

Tracing the history of the conservation department, Mr. Goodman said that a New York state legislative report of 1888 showed the department was created with a budget of $2,800. He said that of the 5,000 persons now employed by department 94 per cent work in the field and six per cent are in administrative occupations.

THE DEPARTMENT now operates 22 fish hatcheries and distributes about 10,000,000 trout, Mr. Goodman said.

In discussing the recreational advantages in the state, Mr. Goodman pointed out that New York state operates 10 regional parks with acreage larger than the entire state of Connecticut and four times larger than Yellowstone Park.

Mr. Goodman said that because about 10 per cent of the hunters "abuse" the privilege while hunting on private lands several counties are restricting public hunting in their areas and consequently more hunting pressure is placed on Ulster county.

ACKNOWLEDGING the presence of Carleton B. King, president of the Ulster County Federated Sportsmen's Club, Mr. Goodman said, "We in the department consider this man as 'Mr. Conservation' himself." He said there is no man in the county "who has done more for conservation and the sportsman than has your guest."

President John Vines announced that Bernard Feeney, president of Kingston Kiwanis, would be the guest speaker at next week's meeting.

Market Booms, Buyers Revive Their Interest

New York, March 9 (AP)—The business boom has had its parallel boom in the number of persons to buy and hold stock in leading corporations.

The roll of stockholders has grown smartly this last year on many a blue chip company's books. Today it is strikingly higher than 10 years ago—in some instances more than double—a concrete sign of the revival of public interest in the stock market since the war.

Ford has just added to this by boosting the number of its stockholders from a handful within the ranks of the family and top executives to more than 350,000 by selling stock to the public.

THE TOTAL of persons owning common stock in this country's corporations is now estimated at least eight million, a gain of 1½ million since the Brookings Institution made a survey in 1952 for the New York Stock Exchange.

The bull market in stocks, feeding on the business boom and its accompanying harvest of confidence, has had much to do with this. So has the record number of stock splits—some 180 last year alone—plus many declarations of stock dividends.

On top of this, the nation's corporations sold 2½ billion dollars of new common stock last year to the public, the Securities and Exchange Commission reports. (The Ford stock sale, coming in 1956, isn't included.)

THE NEW YORK Stock Exchange publishes today in the March issue of the exchange a table of 18 companies with some of the nation's largest stockholder lists. Their average gain in numbers last year was 7 per cent and in 10 years 44 per cent.

Ford isn't included since its stock wasn't publicly available until recently. And one or two other companies with large stock owner rolls aren't there because their latest lists aren't available. The 18, combined, now have 4,541,221 share owners, compared with 3,151,861 in 1946, the first postwar year when industry was readjusting from a war to a peace economy. The totals include duplications, of course, since many stockholders own shares in more than one of the 18.

American Telephone & Telegraph is the most widely owned corporation, both now and then. It reports 1,409,000 shareowners, a gain of 106 per cent in 10 years. General Motors is second with 537,751 now, a 33.2 per cent increase since the war.

BIGGEST GAINER percentagewise in 10 years in the number of shareholders is International Harvester with a jump of 230.6 per cent, although it now counts the smallest number of any of the list—99,390.

Others that have doubled their shareowner totals or better are Jersey Standard Oil and Westinghouse Electric.

General Electric shows a 44.3 per cent increase in the decade. But it was top company for percentage-wise gains in the last year. With 349,000 stockholders now, it has added 53,055, or 17.9 per cent, in the last year.

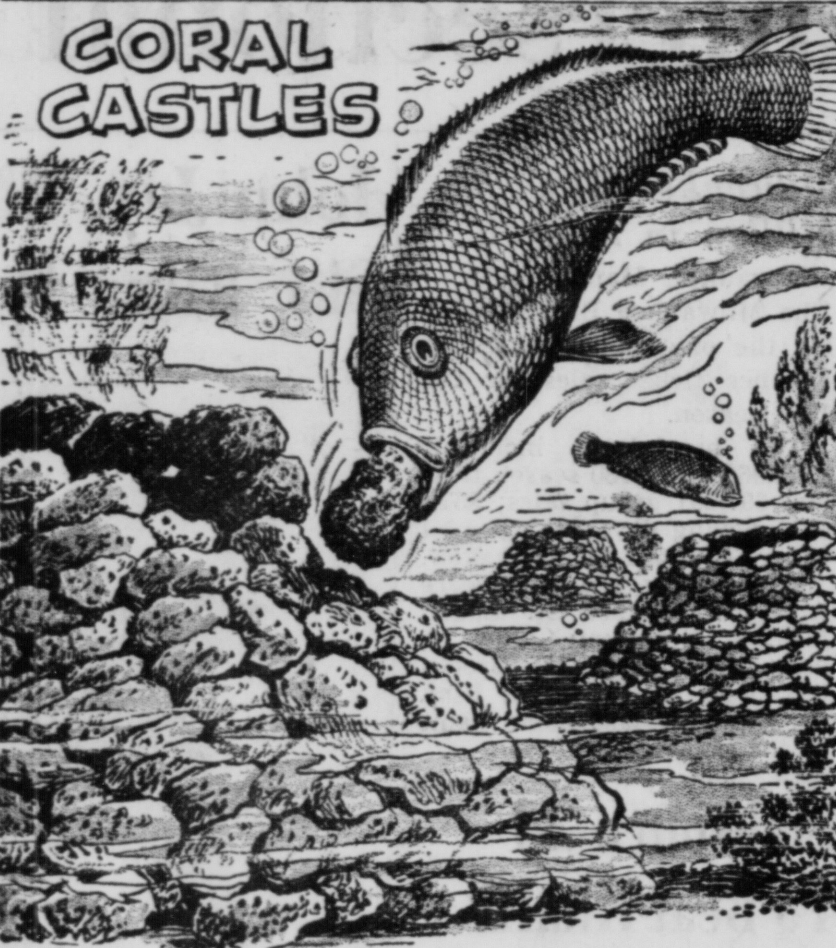

Others showing better than a 40 per cent gain in the last 10 years are duPont, Union Carbide and U. S. Steel. Runners up include California Standard Oil, and Socony Mobil Oil.

IN SPITE of the gains by most of the 18, there are four whose total of share owners (while still more than 100,000 each) have dropped from the level of 10 years ago. They are Cities Service, Studebaker-Packard, Radio Corp. of America and Anaconda.

On the whole, though, evidence of the increase in public interest in stock owning encourages Wall Street. It may be one of the reasons that the issuing of new common stock last year increased 80 per cent over 1954. It accounted for 21 per cent of the total of corporate capital raising—notably better than in earlier years.

U. S. total farm income has dropped 25 per cent in the last four years.

South Avoids Two Pitfalls

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Two important principles of play are shown in today's hand. First, declarer must develop the spades in the right direction. Second, he must avoid drawing too many trumps.

South can make two spade tricks by playing either opponent for the king of spades. One way is to lead the first spade from the South hand and finesse the queen of spades. The other way is to take the first spade with the ace and then lead the queen of spades through East with the intention of ruffing if the king appears but of discarding if a low spade appears.

In which direction should South play the spades? South must keep East out of the lead for fear of having a diamond pushed through him. If South takes an ordinary spade finesse, he will lose a spade trick to the king, then three diamonds, and eventually a club. Down two.

Instead, South wins the first trick in dummy with the king of hearts, follows with the ace of spades. East covers with the king, for otherwise South would discard a diamond at once. South ruffs the king of spades, gets to dummy with the ace of clubs, and cashes the jack of spades at once in order to discard a diamond.

Now declarer gives up a club. East steps up with the jack of clubs to lead the queen of diamonds. South covers with the king, and West takes the ace of diamonds. West now leads a second trump, but declarer can ruff his two small clubs in the dummy. If South has mistakenly drawn a second trump by himself, West would have led a third trump, and then there wouldn't be enough trumps in the dummy to take care of South's two losing clubs.

Still Wants to Attend Alabama University

New York, March 8 (AP)—Athenine Lucy says she still wants to attend the University of Alabama.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People issued this statement yesterday in behalf of the 26-year-old expelled Negro coed:

"Despite all that has happened I continue to hope, wish and work that I may be able to pursue my education at the State University of my home state. But up until the present time I have been thwarted in my effort to do that."

"Therefore, I have got to follow two courses—to persist in my efforts to be admitted to the University of Alabama next fall and also to make applications to other schools—because I am sincerely interested in getting an education in the University of Alabama if I can but, if not, in another school."

"I would hope that there are unsegregated universities in the southland on whose campuses I may find welcome as a student."

Miss Lucy, who visited here this week, was admitted to the all-white University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa last month after a 2½-year legal fight. She was excluded from the campus Feb. 6 after being met with riots. A federal judge last week ordered her readmitted. The trustees then expelled her on the ground she had made groundless charges against university officials.

The population of the United States is increasing rapidly enough to produce another city the size of Madison, Wis. every 10 days.

Fireflies Give Way to Industry

Moriyama, Japan, March 9 (AP)—For nearly 50 years this city has held a "firefly festival."

"The aerial gyrations of millions of fireflies reflected off scenic Lake Biwa every June. Thousands came from all over Japan. More thousands read of the festival in novels. It was shown in motion pictures and depicted in paintings."

For a few days a year, money was plentiful in Moriyama. The rest of the year it was scarce.

The city campaigned for industrial plants. Soon six dye plants were pouring wastes into the rivers that feed Biwa. There were fewer fireflies.

The city built a plant to breed fireflies. It didn't produce.

In January an industrial combine asked a building permit for a fertilizer plant. That, experts assured the city, would finish off the fireflies. The town split into war camps—pro-firefly and pro-industry.

This week city commissioners announced their decision:

The new factory, with its promise of employment for hundreds, had won. The 1956 firefly festival has been cancelled.

Maroon Plays Albany High in Intersectional Opener Tonight

Bob Strong Advanced To Starting Lineup

Smith Ineligible

For Opening Game

Bob Strong will be in the starting lineup in place of All-DUSO Bob Smith when Kingston High opens the Class A Intersectionals against Albany High tonight at 8 o'clock at the Kate Walton field house.

Smith was ruled ineligible for one week for violating training rules.

If Kingston defeats Albany in what promises to be a sensational battle, Smith will be available for next week's finals against the winner of the Nott Terrace-Newburgh Academy contest.

BOB STRONG brother of Kingston's veteran center, Richie, has seen only limited action this season, but Coach Jack Gilligan wants height in the early going and Bob is the obvious choice.

Teaming up with the two Strongs will be Tom Flemming, Tony Grimaldi and Al Long.

While Kingston and Albany are battling it out, Newburgh Academy confronts powerful, unbeaten Nott Terrace, capital district champion, at the Troy High gym.

KINGSTON goes against Albany without any advance information on the team.

"All we know about Albany is what we read in the papers," said Coach Gilligan this morning. "We were unable to scout them because we didn't know until the last minute what team we would meet."

Gilligan predicted a tough battle but said the Maroons were up, rested and ready.

"Albany lost only two games in that tough conference," added the coach, "and if you note both were in rough battles with Nott Terrace."

ALBANY'S TOP operators are a couple of six-foot-plus stars—6-3 Norm Englehardt and 6-2 George Holt. Ed Dugruy, 5-10, is the No. 3 man.

Newburgh has elevated Johnny Currey to the varsity to replace the injured Dale DeGeorge. NFA's problem is the whole Nott Terrace array, one of the best balanced quintets ever to move into the intersectionals.

A 6:30 preliminary tonight will decide the KHS intra-mural basketball title.

$958.90 Double At Gulfstream

Miami, Fla., Mar. 8 (AP)—Another walloping daily double, worth $958.90, materialized at Gulfstream Park today when Mrs. G. E. Roberts' Thanks Anyhow, paying $129.10, $63.80, and $25.40, won the opener, and Royal Poise, at $12.30, took the second.

Both scored by a nose, and the lucky combination was 4 and 8.

This is the second largest double of the meeting, the high having been set on Tuesday when Tulip Lady (91.60) and Gioconda ($10) formed a payoff of $1,059.30.

Canadian Golfer Leads Tourney

Pensacola, Fla., March 9 (AP)—Jerry Kesselring, a wiry 27-year-old from Toronto, Canada, parlayed a hot putter into a two-stroke lead in yesterday's opening round of the $12,500 Pensacola Open golf tournament.

His four-under-par 68 was one of 20 subpar or par rounds turned in by the 153-man field over the 6,627-yard Pensacola Country Club course.

THE FIELD will be trimmed to the low 60 pros and 10 amateurs after today's round. Those still in the fold will play 18 holes and another 18 Sunday.

Veteran Buck White of Memphis, Tenn., came home with a two under par 70, together with George Bigham of Kansas City, Mo.; Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio; Don January of Abilene, Tex.; and Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla.

Pistons Cinch Western Title; Phils Hit 142

(By The Associated Press)

The Fort Wayne Pistons joined the record-making Philadelphia Warriors as regular season champions in the National Basketball Assn. today and interest centered on the divisional battles for the remaining post-season playoff positions.

The Pistons clinched the Western Division title last night by beating the Minneapolis Lakers 100-82, while the St. Louis Hawks, tied with the Lakers for second place, were edged by the Syracuse Nationals 92-88.

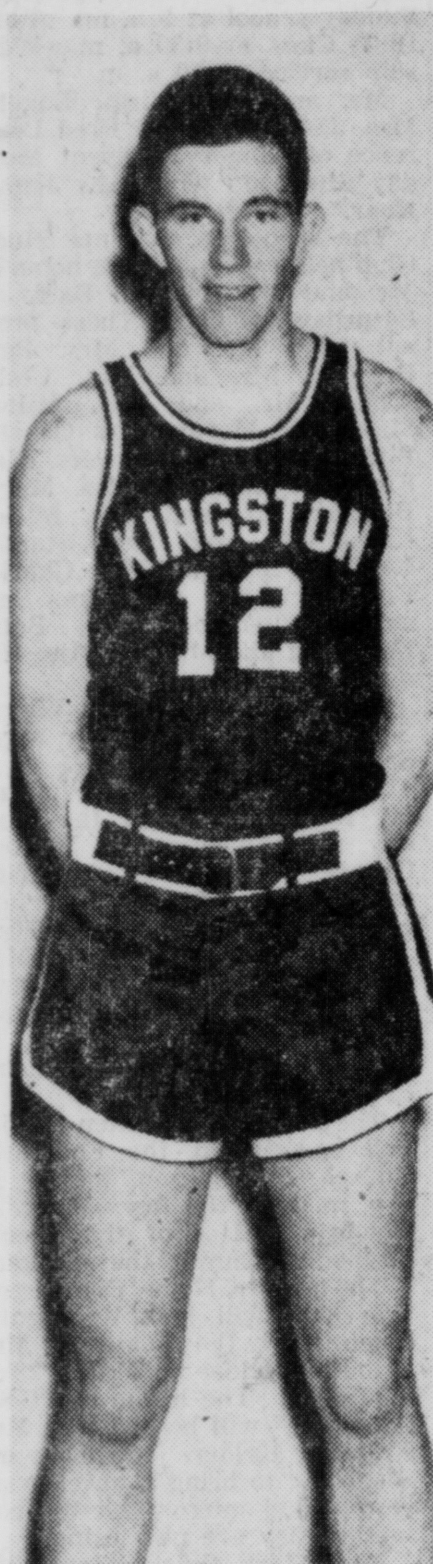

THE WARRIORS, meanwhile, playing their first game since clinching the Eastern Division crown, set a league scoring record by clobbering the Boston Celtics 142-120. Neil Johnston's hook shot in the final second smashed the team mark of 141 points established by Sheboygan against Denver in 1950.

The Syracuse victory was an important one. It meant that the Nationals will go into tomorrow (Saturday) night's game against the New York Knicks, the Eastern Division tail-enders, with a one game advantage.

Milwaukee Hits Million in Sales

Milwaukee, March 8 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves today hit the one million mark in advance ticket sales for the 1956 season.

The breakdown included: $822,960 on 11,430 season tickets; $97,801 group sales; $31,687 opening day; $25,750 mail orders; and $21,802 daily sales.

Games most in demand were April 29 against St. Louis; May 6, Brooklyn; June 10, New York; July 13, Brooklyn; Aug. 26, Brooklyn; Sept. 23, Chicago—last home game of the season.

Lightburn 2-1 To Beat Khalfi

New York, March 9 (AP)—Ludwig (Luddy) Lightburn, one of the bright hopes of the stagnant lightweight division, goes after his seventh straight victory tonight.

The 21-year old contender from British Honduras is a 2-1 choice to get it at Algerian Hoacine Khalfi's expense in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. The bout will be broadcast and telecast (NBC-TV, radio, 10 p. m., EST) coast to coast.

KALFI represents one of the notches of Luddy's belt. The rangy youngster with the picture-punching style and fast hands trounced the 28-year old Algerian five months ago.

A semifinal eight-rounder between undefeated middleweight prospect Herman (Rory) Calhoun, White Plains, N. Y., and Andre Tessier, Springfield, Mass., promises more action than the main event. Calhoun, 21, has won all 18 of his pro starts, nine by kayos. Tessier, 22, has a 17-5-2 record with 11 kayos. He has won nine straight.

Rangers, Wings Tied for Second

(By The Associated Press)

The New York Rangers and Detroit Red Wings still were locked in a bristling battle for second place in the National Hockey League today and the Chicago Black Hawks were all but out of the running for a Stanley Cup playoff berth.

The Rangers remained tied with the Red Wings by downing Chicago 6-4 last night, putting the Hawks on the brink of elimination.

THE RED WINGS beat the Boston Bruins 4-2 and the champion Montreal Canadiens nipped the Toronto Maple Leafs 4-3 in other games.

Tony Leswick scored the three goal hat trick for the Hawks but his efforts could not match the New York offense. Wally Hergesheimer, Danny Lewicki, Guy Gendron, Harry Howell, Bronco Horvath and Pete Conacher registered for the Blueshirts. One more Chicago loss or a Toronto triumph will end the Hawks' hopes of making the playoffs.

MARY DONNELLY slammed a 475 in the Pioneer Women's with progressively better scores of 140, 151 and 184.

Loretta Semlich rolled 406; Ethel Henderson, 419; Carol Marks, 454; Ethel Howard, 409.

Team results: Carnright's, 2, Alpine, 1; Cedar Rest, 2, Worf's, 1; DeLuca's, 3, Lincoln Park Inn, 0.

WARNER MILLER AND S. FODOR were stalemated with a 502 series for individual scoring in the IBM Saranac. Miller posted lines of 163, 182 and 157 while Fodor had 158, 174 and 170.

Jim Anderson fired 497; Walt Jackson, 453; Jim Baker, 465; Sam Domenick, 476; Dick Bradley, 460; C. Carlson, 499.

OVERHEAD DOORS leads the Central Rec Major League by 1 1/2 games over Prospect Dairies at the end of 25 weeks of play.

Phil Masters' 289 is high individual single. Larry Petersen holds the three-game mark of 697. Wilber Heating's 1141 and Prospect Dairies' 3045 are the team standards.

Sickler's Delivery, Affrons Draw First Tourney Games

If there were an official designation for the honor, Chick Meehan of Kerhonkson High would have to rate as Coach of the Year in the Ulster County Athletic League.

The former NBA pro fooled many of the UCAL experts when he rallied his team from a terrific 71-50 early-season pasting by Saugerties to whip the Sawyers twice running en route to Kerhonkson's first UCAL basketball pennant.

The turning point in Kerhonkson's march to the flag was the dramatic overtime victory in the second meeting between the teams. Werner Vustran's drive in the final second gave Kerhonkson a thrilling 61-60 decision and set the stage for Tuesday's playoff on the neutral court at Onteora.

Meehan had his cagers up for the big test and they dominated the action almost from the first tapoff before 800 fans who jam-packed the Onteora gym. It was an incredible comeback and the glory that is Kerhonkson's today is shared equally by the players and their astute coach.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Onteora Central officials had to close the doors almost 10 minutes before game time, so great was the crush. . . . The sports department has an entry blank for the 1957 ABC tournament at Fort Worth, Texas. Any team interested? . . . Orange county basketball experts think either Goshen or Chester will whip any Class B team in the area in the basketball interseasonals. . . . The boys in the back room must have been kidding when they speculated a City League pitcher might have been sneaked into the New York Giant training camp the day West Westrum pounded a pair of homers. . . . Manager Bill Rigney early and emphatically let it be known the Giant training base would not be the headquarters for Hollywood characters, a la Leo Durocher. "Sorry, only players will be permitted on the field," said Rigney to several celluloid bigwigs asking to work out with the Giants.

Among Our Colleagues:

Edmund "Bucky" Bower of Hurley completed his Union College basketball career with 233 points in 17 games. That's a shade under 14 points for Bucky, who developed his rebounding and defensive abilities to complement his well known shooting talents. He was one of the more versatile members of the team. Though he admitted his 200-pound frame got a little weary as the second half rolled along, he played most of every game. He was co-captain of the team and a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity. . . . Another Kingston youth who was also a co-captain—Frank Koenig of Siena—scored 265 points in 20 games for the Indians for a 13.3 average. Siena's top scorer, of course, was Timmy Hill, the Negro flash who set seven individual career records at Loudonville. He had a career total of 1092 points, thanks to a 417-point total this season that gave him a 20.9 average.

Of Men and Mice:

If Goose Tatum and Marques Haynes, who quit the Globetrotters to form the highly successful Harlem Magicians are able to snare Bill Russell of San Francisco and Willie Naulls and Morris Taft of UCLA, you can look for a strong bid for a National Basketball Association franchise. . . . An all-Negro quintet, with the addition of Si Green of Duquesne would be a terrific attraction in the NBA. But the Harlem Globetrotters are up to their mongoose-and-cobra tactics with Tatum and Haynes. They've offered Russell, the great All-America, a $25,000 contract for their next tour. . . . Peter Bruck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bruck of 285 Clifton avenue, has reported for varsity lacrosse practice at Union College. The dad is the former Ulster county semi-pro basketball star.

Ron Britzke, the Middletown Times-Herald sports editor, will make his mark in the newspaper game or public relations. A motorcycle expert, he was offered a job with a Pacific Coast motorcycle publication. He accepted. Know how he's traveling to the coast? By motorcycle.

The two teams most likely to meet in the finals of the Kingston Basketball Tournament will be on display opening night, Tuesday, March 13 at the municipal auditorium.

Sickler's Delivery of Kingston, but loaded with Siena College senior varsity talent, including co-captain Frank Koenig, takes on Pine Plains A. C. in the 8:45 p. m. contest.

Affron's Jewelers of Newburgh, newly-crowned champions of the Hill City, meet the Highland Falls Pelicans in the 7:30 opener.

Both teams reek with more talent. Besides Koenig, the No. 2 scorer with Siena, the Deliverymen expect to have Justin McCarthy of this year's squad.

RETURNERS from last year's championship include Long Tom Pottsburgh, 6-foot-9-inch Rhinebeck cager, Junior Konikowski, coach at Suffern High, Jack Currey, Ralph Pedulla and other former Siena toppers.

Tim Hill, Siena's all-time scoring leader, will not play with Sicklers. A rumor is afloat that he will appear in the livey of George Steutels, Pine Plains Bombardiers, along with Skip Brodhead of Kingston. Pine Plains AC is a steady team that can beat any team in the tournament on a given night. Its top operators are Ken Hirsch, Gary Harrington, John Brandt and the Cousse brothers, Bob and Fred.

AFFRON OILERS feature a star-studded name lineup, including Richie and Bobby Spreer, Ralph Petrillo, Dave Latimer, Jay Hodges, Frank Coulard and sundry other ex-Newburgh Academy aces. Long John Godwin of Kingston High and New Paltz State may also play for the Oilers.

Highland Falls Pelicans, making their debut, are something of an unknown quantity but are reported loaded with West Point and Stewart service personnel talent.

Audrey Scores 26 Points

Capture Opener In Shaughnessy

Maintaining her record as one of the top distaff scorers in the city, Audrey Cherny poured in 26 points as Cherny Brothers thumped the Red Raiders, 55-37, in the Shaughnessy playoff opener of the Recreation Women's loop last night at the MJM gym.

The point total was no gift, either, as Audrey connected for 12 field goals and only two from the free-throw stripe. Phyllis Kaye scored 14.

THE RAIDERS scoring effort was led by Rosemary Pillsworth who rimmed 20 points, eight field goals and four foul shots. Mary Meyers was next with 12. It was quite a ball game for the first half as the intermission ended 24-14. However, Chernys opened the breach to six points in the third period and in the last stanza the Raiders defense collapsed and their scoring tapered off to a mere three points.

The Hurricanes and Redlegs are paired in next week's play-off, the winner meeting undefeated Chernys in the deciding contest the following week.

Augusta, Ga., March 9 (AP)—Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., who has won two of the 16 Titleholders tournaments, and Marlene Bauer Hagge, 5-foot-3, brunette from Asheville, N. C., grabbed the first round lead with 78s yesterday in the 1956 Titleholders golf tournament.

Morehead 25th Team to Play In NCAA Tourney

By ED WILKS (By The Associated Press)

The 25-team field for the NCAA basketball championship tournament now is complete with Morehead (Ky.) State, the highest scoring major college club in history, in possession of the Ohio Valley Conference crown and it first berth in the sprawling contest for the national title.

The Eagles did it the hard way, with Dan Swartz and Herman Tolle each sinking a pair of free throws in the last 21 seconds to defeat Western Kentucky 84-80 in the finale of a three-team playoff. Western, oddly, had eliminated Tennessee Tech by the same score the night before, swishing two field goals in the last 11 seconds.

All three clubs wound up with 7-3 records in the regular conference season. The Eagles are 17-9 for the over-all season.

MOREHEAD'S 84 points slimmed the Eagles' average a bit to 96 points a game, still ahead of the record 95.3 mark set by Furman a year ago.

The Eagles, who overhauled Western midway in the second half and then held on to the lead, will run into Marshall, the No. 2 high-scoring major college team this season, in the first round NCAA eliminations at Fort Wayne, Ind., Monday night. Morehead has two decisions—102-89 and 108-103—this season over the mid-American conference champs, who have averaged 93.3 points a game in compiling an 18-4 mark.

THERE WAS very little other activity last night. Manhattan, headed for a Tuesday meeting with Connecticut in the NCAA regional eliminations at New York's Madison Square Garden, defeated Fordham 78-71 for a regular season record of 16-7. Iowa State assured itself a share of second place in the Big 7 Conference by defeating Nebraska 94-74.

A Gauntlet to Ransom Jackson

Robinson Determined Player; Ramon Monzant Quits Giants

By BEN OLAN (The Associated Press)

The competition for the regular third base job on the Brooklyn Dodgers is on in earnest and Jackie Robinson said today "Ransom Jackson will have to be a whale of a player this year to beat me out."

"I'll say this much," Jackie added, "if Jackson does beat me out, then fine. It'll mean that we have that much stronger a team, and make us a cinch to win the pennant. I'll wish him good luck and be his substitute."

"But Jackson will have to beat me at my best. My legs are strong and that's the main thing. I weighed out at 208 yesterday and I haven't been down to that since 1950."

Robinson, 37, is starting his 10th season with the Dodgers. He batted only .256 in 105 games in 1955. He has, however, a lifetime National League mark of .314, third highest among the circuit's active players.

JACKSON, who hit .265 in 138 games with the Chicago Cubs, has a .266 average for six big league seasons. The Dodgers got him in a winter trade.

Openly critical of Walt Alston at times, Robinson had some kind words to say about the Brooklyn skipper.

"Alston's doing things right. He has competition going at almost every position and that's good. It's not going to be easy for me, and it's not going to be easy for Pee Wee Reese at short, the way the kids are playing."

"But I know there's a place for me somewhere on this club even if it's as a reserve."

Meanwhile, the Dodgers' arch rivals, the New York Giants, had some unpleasant news.

RAMON MONZANT, the Venezuelan righthander who was being counted on as a starting pitcher, notified the club he didn't plan to play in the United States this year. He said in a letter that his mother was ill and he "didn't have the spirit" to pitch.

Elsewhere, some of the managers were busy getting their pitchers lined up for the opening of the exhibition schedule Saturday.

Mike Higgins, Boston Red Sox pilot, named righthanders George Susce and Jerry Casale and lefty Leo Kiely to hurl against Brooklyn in the opener. He also listed Tom Brewer and Dave Sisler for Sunday's tilt.

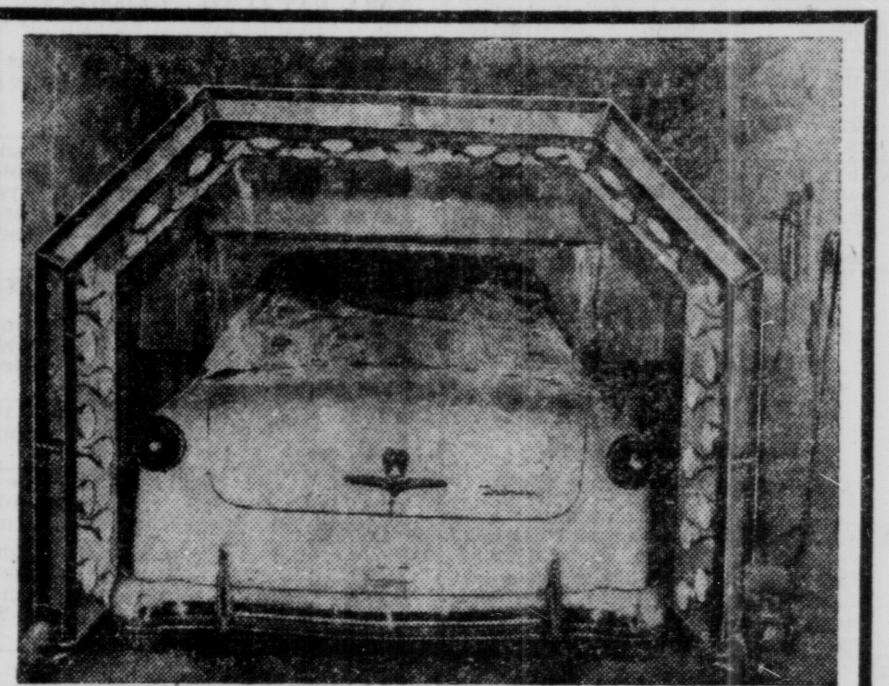

Lou Boudreau tabbed Bill Bradford, 31-year-old rookie up from San Francisco, for plenty of work in the Kansas City training games.

IN OTHER NEWS, Julio Becquer, freshman first baseman, continued his hefty hitting in Washington's camp with a homer and a single, good for three runs batted in. . . . Manager Birdie Tebbetts advised some of his long ball hitters including Gus Bell and Smokey Burgess to cut down on their swings to "get more hits" . . . First basemen Tom Alston and Joe Cunningham looked good defensively for the St. Louis Cardinals . . . White Sox Vice President Chuck Comiskey denied that outfielder Jim Rivera was ticketed to go to the Red Sox . . . And rookie pitcher Buddy Carter suffered an injured elbow in a New York Yankee intra-squad game.

Kalamazoo, Mich. (AP)—A Western Michigan College professor says he thinks school children should attend classes all year round. Dr. L. Morris Mc-Clure says the nine-month term was set when children were needed for farm work and is outmoded. McClure would eliminate summer vacation, replacing it with playtime activities such

Four Girls Regret False Kidnap Story

Independence, Kan., March 9 (P)—Four Newton, Iowa, high school girls spent last night in jail here, regretting their false story of being kidnaped Wednesday.

County Attorney Tom Crossan said they would be arraigned today on a charge of disturbing the peace.

One of the girls, Judy Damman, 17, explained that they decided on an impulse Wednesday to drive the 32 miles from Newton to Des Moines instead of going to their after-school jobs. "When we got to Des Moines we were afraid to go home, so we just kept driving," she said. They fabricated the kidnaping story as they traveled, she added.

Ten miles northeast of here early yesterday the girls called officers from a farmhouse and said two men had kidnaped them in Newton and forced them to drive south. The girls said they escaped from the men by driving the car into a ditch.

"It was just a crazy kid trick," growled Sheriff Floyd Higgins last night after the girls broke down and admitted the hoax following eight hours of questioning.

The other girls were Lois Davis, 18; Janeane Fahrney, 17, and Gloria Jemsa, 18, all high school seniors. "I'm terribly sorry," Miss Davis told a reporter. "I don't know why we did it. We're really not that ignorant."

Nearly two dozen officers in seven highway patrol cars and four sheriff's cars maintained roadblocks in the area yesterday looking for the fictitious kidnapers.

Mr. Ross joined Central Hudson on March 1, 1916 as a meter reader in Kingston and, except for an 11-month tour of service during World War I, he has been attached to the local office for all of his 40 years' service.

In a ceremony at Central Hudson's general office in Poughkeepsie, Mr. Ross was presented with a 40-year service emblem and was cited for his long and loyal service by Ernest R. Ackers, company president.

Dealers Must List Cars on Certificate

Albany, N. Y., March 9 (P)—The Motor Vehicle Bureau has clarified its regulations designed to prevent automobile dealers from passing off used cars or demonstrators as new.

Effective March 15, the new rules require that the classification of a vehicle as new, demonstrator or used must be entered on the certificate of sale "in a conspicuous manner and apart from other printing or information on the document."

Under the rules, a new car is defined as one that has not been driven either in consumer use or for demonstration purposes. A demonstrator is one that may have been driven for demonstration but not in consumer use. Used automobiles include all others.

Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly noted that a dealer found to have violated the rules would be subject to suspension or revocation of his state license.

The regulations provide that any guarantee issued to buyers "must contain the scope of guarantee or warranty, the limitations as to date or mileage, and the specific terms and items covered," Kelly added.

Lady Henschel Dead

Iverness, Scotland, March 9 (P)—Lady Amy Henschel, 82-year-old former New Yorker, died today of burns suffered when her night gown caught fire from a bedroom heater Wednesday.

Lady Amy was the widow of Sir George Henschel, conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra in the 1880's. He died in 1937. Before her marriage in 1907 she was Amy Louis, a teacher and concert singer.

All but a few of the Riverside inhabitants were evacuated by boat by 10 a. m.

AT NOON Crowley announced that some utilities were back in operation, but the entire west end of the city was limited to a single gas line.

The main line had burst under-water sending a six foot geyser into the air.

The Red Cross set up emergency lodging in lodge halls and private homes, and established kitchens.

The city's water Supt. Orville A. Weagraff said the pumping station which draws half the city's water supplies from artesian wells might be out of commission for several days.

Crowley declared, "It's definitely the worst flood we've ever had," and put the estimate of damage at "one million dollars or more."

Justice of Peace Says Resolution of Board Improper

New York, March 9 (P)—A Long Island justice of the peace has repudiated a resolution by the Islip town board which attacked State Investigation Commissioner J. Irwin Shapirus report on traffic ticket fixing in Suffolk county.

Justice of the Peace Thomas D. Harris of Sayville said yesterday: "After a complete review of the testimony in the commissioner's office, I can see now that the resolution was improper."

Harris, one of two justices of the peace who moved the resolution, added: "As far as I am concerned, I will move to have it expunged from the record."

THE RESOLUTION, sponsored and seconded by Justice of the Peace Thomas Mordecai and Harris, was adopted by the Islip town board Feb. 24 and forwarded to Gov. Averell Harriman.

Shapiro, a Democrat, had made public on Feb. 20 a report to the governor in which he charged that numerous justices of the peace, county officials and police—particularly in Islip—were engaged in widespread traffic ticket fixing.

Officials in the Republican-controlled county denied the charges and accused Shapiro of political motivation.

The Islip town board resolution declared the justices of the peace had a right to "exercise their discretion" in settling traffic cases, and it called Shapiro's report "a vicious and unwarranted attack on (the board's) integrity and on that of its individual members." Justices of the peace are members of their own town boards.

Harriman on March 1 said the resolution was "contrary to all concepts of propriety and of responsibility in public office."

HARRIS ANNOUNCED a change of mind after spending 90 minutes in Shapiro's office here, where he had come in response to a subpoena calling for his records. Harris went over testimony on which Shapiro based his charges. Shapiro has subpoenaed the records of most of the justices of the peace in Suffolk county.

Harris said in his statement that the Islip resolution "was offered and adopted without a full knowledge of all the facts and in the thought that Islip was being singled out for political reasons only."

Harris added:

"I agree that the practices described in Commissioner Shapiro's report, based on the testimony adduced before him, that I have seen, are not in the best
